Dying of Famine
is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers of Carroll, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor in vain I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at the Red Cross Pharmacy. Prices, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Trial bottle free.

Henrietta Grosman.
The double bill "Nance Oldfield" and "Madeline" in which Henrietta Grosman will appear at the Barre opera house soon, is one of the most popular in her repertoire. Combining as it does comedy and tragedy it gives Miss Grosman an opportunity to display her wonderful versatility. "Nance Oldfield" one of the most delightful of the old English comedies, is considered a classic. In it Miss Grosman has made one of her most pronounced successes. The tragedy of "Madeline" is by Mrs. W. K. Clifford of London, a writer of renown. It is powerful story of strong heart interest and has probably created more comment than any play yet produced by Miss Grosman.

EAST BARRE.
There will be a dance Tuesday evening. An orchestra from Barre will be in attendance. All are cordially invited.

Memorial to First White Settlers.

Mrs. Horace H. Dyer of Rutland, Mrs. J. Emory Buxton, of Middletown Springs, and Mrs. N. W. Flak of Isle La Motte, a committee appointed at the annual meeting of the Vermont Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, held in Montpelier last fall to raise a memorial to the first white settlers of Vermont on Isle La Motte, met at Mrs. Flak's home on Isle La Motte May 24 and 25, Mrs. F. Stewart Stranahan and Mrs. F. Walworth Smith of St. Albans were also present. After visiting different parts of the island they decided to erect a memorial on the north end, on a farm now owned by M. A. and G. F. Pike, one of the most beautiful and historic spots upon the island, which is without doubt very near the spot where the white man first put foot upon Vermont soil.

Very near the selected location there is a stoned up well that is eighty-six feet deep. The place is an old Indian lookout, as by climbing to the tops of the highest trees upon this point the different tribes of Indians could be seen approaching for many miles from both north and south. There is also a large stone house in good repair that is occupied at the present time by M. A. Pike. The house was built by his grandfather, Ezra Pike, in 1829. This spot is just a few rods back of old Fort St. Anne, built in 1666. Samuel Champlain, without doubt, visited this spot in 1609. Much history has already been written of this place which will be thoroughly looked up by the daughters before the memorial is erected.

The members of the committee requested ex-Lieut. Gov. N. W. Fisk to aid them in selecting a suitable memorial, and he has already forwarded to Mrs. Dyer several designs from which to select. It is expected that the committee will come to some decision soon, and, if possible, the memorial will be put up this coming season.

Hearts of the Blue Ridge.

"Hearts of the Blue Ridge," written by that well known author of Southern dramas, Mr. Hal Reid, will be presented at the Castle Park theatre this Monday evening by the winsome actress, Dorothy Lewis, and a strong company. Mr. Reid has given to the world such sterling plays as "Knobs of Tennessee," "Human Hearts," and "Night Before Christmas," but he has surpassed them all in this new drama, "Hearts of the Blue Ridge." It is full of soul inspiring emotions, crammed to the brim with the wild passions of the rough, strong hearts of the brave mountain folks who dwell among the pine clad hills of North Carolina. The scenes as arranged by the author are startling and sensational in the extreme, and are softened and rounded off by the faithfully portrayed loves of these simple mountaineers. The play will hold the interest of the audience until the end, and is sufficiently interspersed with comedy features to relieve the tension at the proper time. The singing and buck and wing dancing are among the great features of the production. Prices 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Just in Time.
Mr. Softleigh (who has just been accepted)—And when shall I speak to your father?
The Dear Girl—You needn't bother. Pa said he'd speak to you tomorrow if you didn't speak to me tonight.
